A black and white photograph of a large crowd of students sitting in bleachers. The students are mostly young men and women, appearing to be in their late teens or early twenties. They are all looking in various directions, but many have expressions of disappointment or sadness. Some are looking down, some are looking away, and some are looking towards the camera with weary expressions. The crowd is dense, filling the frame from the foreground to the background. The lighting is somewhat dim, suggesting an indoor or evening setting. The overall mood is one of collective disappointment.

Bruins Notch 6-2 Season Record

With 4:32 left in the game, victory was certain for the weary Bruin team.

A dream had come true. A East End school proved they could win and hit with the best. Before the season was over five more victories were filed into Bruin football history. A fast offense and a dominating defense made winning a common reality.

Next year Ballard will host its first year of varsity competition.

It's Not How You Play The Game That Counts, But How You Win!

This poses a problem: The objective, naturally, is to win; everybody follows a champion.

Consider then, the loser?

Working with his teammates in the shadow of his own goal, he has found that the game is not entirely an offensive one.

And upon losing he has learned to accept losses gracefully, to forget them, then with the instinctive desire to win to prepare for the next foe.

Life too, is often composed of a series of goal line stands. Men who have the experience of fatigues and setbacks might be better tempered to withstand such forces.

A football player learns some things inside his opponents five yard line which he will never find in a classroom. The desire to win and strive, and win again.

Although their 2-6 record wasn't exactly what they had hoped for, they were the only first-year varsity team to win any games. Their victories were well deserved and their losses were due to inexperience rather than a lack of skill. But even when they lost their spirit never faltered, and it's this tremendous spirit and ever growing experience that is making them a winning team.

Ballard's constant desire and striving for success in sports was shown clearly this year. The Bruins' phenomenal victory over Saint Xavier and the fine showing in the State Tournament proved that wrestling was no exception.

Coached by Tom Peterson, the grapplers put together a 4-4-1 record in their first year of competition. The constant improvement and the never-give-up attitude made our boys worthy opponents for anyone. Next year the Bruin wrestlers predict an even better season as they will field their first year of varsity competition.

Not so fortunate, the boys were only able to compile a 1 and 4 record. They will use the experience they gained this year to build a better season next year.

The "Spirit Mug," best player awards, decorated goal posts, signs reading "Beat J-town," and the "Star Spangled Banner" blasted by Mr. Hoon's finest have all become part of our school.

Tales are told of a pair of humongus fungus feet, which 'tis rumored, stalk the halls by night seeking their long-lost master, Benny the Bruin who, rest his soul, was departed from us unexpectedly by who knows what evil spirit. The room itself seems to have the curious habit of swallowing textbooks and digesting clothes for extracurricular activities. And who knows Cupid's next prey behind the locked doors of the Bruin den. And Editor John got his share of fresh air commuting to Ballard on afternoon errands of mercy. Merle dedicated the Phillips Memorial Onion. Judy, it's been such a short year & a fantastic one, I've never enjoyed English so much as this year. I've never gotten so deeply involved in books before, especially Conrad's stuff. While reading Nigger of the ~~the~~ Narcissus I'm having trouble I not underlining things that sound like symbolism. I hope you never leave Ballard for the remainder of your teaching career. The way you teach is fantastic, don't ever, ever change it, your kids (in your classes) may laugh a lot & ~~kid about~~ around & generally give you a bad time ~~but~~ don't let that fool you. They respect you & they've got one hell of a lot of respect for you too. Don't ever let the kids get you down when they're teasing you. They don't mean to really upset you. You're just so funny when you get mad. And go right on ruining the effect (you'll never be able to get hell mad without doing it) it ~~lets~~ lets the kids know you're normal. There's a lot of things I'll remember about your class - every thing from hecky-dam and micky mouse to "I don't give a damn about Ciomwell!" That's one thing. Don't ever let change is the fact that a kid can say almost anything he wants to in your class. Like I said don't ever, ever in a million years change the way you teach. I was talking to Barbara the other day & we both agree you've changed a lot (& for the better) I don't know how ~~at~~ a bunch of nutty kids could do it but you're not as sensitive as you were in the beginning, you relax a little, no w) lot & see it wasn't so bad. I'll see you this summer - (think on that for a while!) Susan Cause I will!!!!

Quincy,

Rayan has come and gone in less time than I can believe. I want you to know that I have enjoyed your class immensely (except for the Study Hall) and I have learned more in English II than in any other English class. I will never forget Rima and the factory and Joseph Conrad and all your midday mouse animal squeals. I think you have to admit that we have also done you a lot of good. At the beginning of the year you were extremely hypersensitive to everything and often you got used to the complaints as your life got better (probably a little bit of both.) If I could I would like to give you a bit of advice - Do not apply one rule to every ~~different~~ different situation. Never forget me and Jefferson Airplane and R1149? (Charlie Oke) and please try to remember my good points and not my faults. Best of luck in finding the guy who is right for you and may you have many shiny fat Albertas + Albertas. Do you still think look me up by the time I'm 18? I hope not that only gives me two years. (To one 100 pound kid to another)

Barbara Hella Lonsdale

P.S. See you next year (sorry you have to teach Eng I)

Barbara Hella Lonsdale

Editors' Notes

As we near the deadline of the 1970 issue of the Bruin, the editors and staff would like to extend a special thanks to the following people for their help and cooperation: Mr. Patrick Crawford, Mrs. Marion Morris, Graham Studios, Paul Chapman, Rob Stokes, Joe Hoke, and Joe Seay. A very special note of thanks goes out to all the teachers and students of Ballard who smiled, frowned, posed, and cooperated so whole-heartedly to make this book our story.

until you.

Miss Judy,
your class
has been "interesting"
to say the least. You are one of the few teachers
in this school who do care about their students & try to help them. We never forget all the discussions in here. See "Byron" & "Gully" are the things I remember most.
Good luck always!
Love
Wendy Daniels

Miss Skimmey:
Although I
got stuck in your class I would in any grade I hear from Drink and smoke!
only way to go!
Come look me out
in Jun. 20th
and look me out

and look me out

Miss Goodwin,
I think you're
really a great Eng.
teacher and I'll
never forget my class. Thanks for putting up with us.

Miss ^{Judy} Goodwin,
We'll miss you at Ballard High. This
class was very interesting, for an English
class that is. I hope you didn't flunk ^{me} but if you did, that's okay (I'll cry later on). I'll never forget the way you put Karen and I on the spot
with those guys. Well
get you back.
Love
Dan

To my favorite English Teacher
I really enjoyed this year.
I'm sorry for all the hell
I gave you. I wish I could have you next year because
this was my favorite class.
Next year when you read the quote from Julius Caesar "What Lucius, Ho" remember me.
Love,

Pat Riley 1st Rd.

Miss Goodwin,
you're my 8th
grade core teacher
are the best ever! you
don't keep the classes from being boring! Don't pay attention to all the hell
all your classes gave you -
we didn't mean it - you're perhaps the only teacher that everyone really likes!
Good luck!
Love

Miss (Judy & Al Alberta) Goodwin,
This class has really been fun.
All the times you yelled, and screamed.
The time you threatened to slap me up against the wall, It all has been quite fun.

I'm really sad that you have to leave. But I guess that's the breaks. You really were a great teacher, And I'll never forget ya!
Maybe I'll see ya this summer
somewhere.

Love, and Luck,

Laura

Miss Goodwin (A PAWIC) 72"
As one of the greatest & fabulous teachers I ever had. I've learned more this year in your class than I think I have in my 9 other years of school. Of course I know it was a pleasure for you to have me in your class because I'm brilliant & never pleasant.
I hope you never regret having our class because I know that we never will. Sorry for all the trouble.

P.S. Please excuse this poor writing but I can't write to good when I mean what I
write.
